The University of Maryland Extension (UME), Dorchester, is seeking an Educator to provide coordination and programmatic support for educational programs for youth, families, and communities. The Educator would work with volunteers and youth development agencies to provide experiential learning opportunities for youth, leading to the development of life skills for youth. The Educator is also responsible for developing an active, ongoing recruitment campaign to involve new volunteers and youth. As a professional track faculty member, the Educator will be responsible for developing youth development programs in cooperation with colleagues across the county/city and cluster. The faculty member will be eligible for promotion in accordance with university policy and UME professional track faculty guidelines within a time frame defined. This position reports directly to the Maryland 4-H Program Leader and Area Extension Director. All candidates MUST apply online. See the detailed position announcement at: https://ejobs.umd.edu/postings/96855 for position #103478.

Apply by August 15, 2022. EOE

The University of Maryland Department of Agriculture’s Resource Conservation Unit is Hiring! 22 openings – Various County Soil Conservation Districts

$40,320 - $63,797/year

Deadline to apply: August 16, 2022

Agricultural Resource Conservation Specialist I
Job#: 22-000514-0001

This is entry level conservation planning work, with opportunity for promotion. Successful candidates will learn to: plan and promote conservation programs; inventory and evaluate practices to reduce soil erosion and improve water quality by performing onsite evaluations; and develop/revise and deliver conservation plans for the cooperators or landowner to meet farming operation needs and promote the wise use of natural resources.

Soil Conservation Associate II
Job#: 22-003314-0001

This is intermediate level technician work, with opportunity for promotion. Technical work involves survey, design, layout, and construction check of soil and water conservation projects and systems that meet established standards, specifications and guidelines of the USDA, NRCS or other approved entities. Work is accomplished in conjunction with the Landowner or operator.

These are permanent positions with full benefits. Go to MDA Jobs at www.mda.maryland.gov to view details and to apply. ADA/EEO
